Sacramstro, March 4.—At a joint canceus of Republicans tonight the long talked of investigation committee was discussed. It was proposed by the advocates of the measure that a committee of five confer with the Governor for the purpose of ascertaining his view on the clause which provides for a recount of the vote for povernor in San Francisco. There was decided opposition to this, and compaderable entory was displayed. The result was that no definite action was agreed upon and the whole matter was left just where it was.

At the conference tonight of a special committee of three senators and three samultymen concerning the appropriation bill, mutual recognism were agreed to, which if carried out will reduce the total of the bill about $150,000. The compromise us now understood permits the $40,000 for the state fair to stand, but cuts down the district fair appropriations to from $150,000 to $75,000.

Tue Hawaiian republic has dealt with the insurrectionists in a manner that will gain for it the commendation of al nded people. Its justice has been red with mercy, but it has not fair minded people. Its passes are not been so lenient as to encourage frequent prisings against the government. The sentence imposed upon the ex-queen soems to be rather severe in comparis with the light panalty paid by other active revolutionists, but the probability is tant the sentence of imprisonment in her case will be commuted to a milder form of nunishment.

Annuaw Cansague proposes to tell the Annux Caustan: proposes to ten the people of this country what he would do if he were their cear. Mr. Carnegie's program of absolute power-transcending that which is exercised by Grover Cleveland—will be looked for with in-Dieveiand—will be jooked for with In-terest, and public expectation will be greatly disappointed if he fails to set forth what he would do in case blow-hole armorplate should be palmed off on the government under his administra-Andrew's dissertation on caseshi will be very disappointing if he fails to cincidate this point fully.

SAN FRANCISCO may have a postoffice building before the end of the nine-teenth century. Senator Perkins has recepted in having the proposed inves succeeded in having the projuses in testigation of the postoffice site referred to the war department, and the job will be attended to by officers of the regular army. These parties have been educated to do what is set before them cated to do what is set ploofs their promptly, and when they are ordered to train their gans on the blow-hole foun-dation at the corner of Mission and Seventh streets the order to fire will be given and the test will be made. When congress and courts fall to settle an "island" the proper thing to do is to THE repeal of the weights and measure legislature. Probably it will strike the legislature. Probably it will strike the average reader that x conclusion should be reached in such a case without a vant amount of consideration, for the law, if properly amended, is calculated to be of snefit to the people of the state. stated, the law (the repeal of briefly stated, the law (the leptal of which a legislative committee has rec-ommended) provides for the official seal-ing of scales and measures, so that the consumer of goods shall obtain a fair consideration for his money. It is calculated to be a saleguard against the possible rognery of dealeys. It has indeed been inefficacious, for the past because the too frequent scaling immensely. cause the too frequent scalings imsuch a hardship on dealers that the secretary of state refused to enforce it, but this is a difficulty that can be readily removed by an amendment, and this is the course that should be adopted. That some dealers do indules in petty steylings by false measures is an understood fact, and in so doing a double hardship and injustice is worked, viz. An consumers and to honest deal-ers. A law to prevent this is what is needed. As the law as it stands is defactive; amend it, but don't turn back from a stee in the right direction.

Stair the Castellane Gould wedding to the bare fact, and what is there left to justify the reams of paper which have been devoted to publishing to the world its minutest facts and the minutiae of what preceded it. A young woman whom an accident of birth has made rich has married a young man to whom another accident of birth has given a title. More than this there is not in th case, yet the American world, if it may case, yet the American world, it is may be judged by its newspapers, stood with neck outstretched and craned head, hoping to catch some distant lustre of gold and glimmer of dismonds. So insistent was the public, or its nowspan. papers, that it was announced in ad ce by the gold-and-title combination vance by the gold-and-title combination that no reporter would be admitted to see or hear or know anything of the secred (because gold-plated) mysteries. The Los Angeles Times says that "A San Francisco idiot has posted a proclamation in front of his shop, appropriate headed with red better, demanding the secession of the Pacific states from the Union, and the establishment of a great empire west of the Rocky Monntains." If the Times' elatiment is correct it is a clear case for the application of some wholesome law. The secession renament was drowned in a river of blood nearly a third of a century ago, and prison cells are none too thick for him who attempts to revive it. It seems that the Times must be mistaken in its information. If not, what is the traitorous fool doing at large?

In Santa Cruz, last vaturday, William Penn was arrested for trying to shoot his wife. It is ead to reflect that William has thus fallen. When we first became acquainted with the gentleman last thus fallen. When we guite a while ago—he was universally respected and his treaty with the Indiana was much admired. Often and often his wife has said to the writer: "William is in exemplary husband. He never stays out fate at lodge, and he chews only Powhattan's best." We had heard that Penny (this was what his intimate friends called him) had gone into politics, and it probably is to this fact and the Santa Cruz climate that his fall is due. It is a said case.

The Very Bad Habit of

WHY GARRIEL WAS DISCOURAGED

If any little thing can be said to check the Fresio coroner's juries in their unhallowed limbit of killing off titizens and afterward permitting them to come to life, somebody should say it. The recent resurrection of Adulph Buof Mr. Regors, who is now janitor of the city hall, is not forgotton. It always gives me the horrors to go in the city hall and free a corpse around there with on in its hand, and I am sure that had had see a corpse fround there with a broom in its hand, and I am sure that an earlo feeling would 'come over me should I see Mr. Bucher partaking of pretzels and canner kard.

The coroner's jury should pay some attention to the feelings of the deceased. It is no light thing to walk about your native leath and hear your friends say as they clego over to the other side of the way: "There gues the late departed." It is a sail thing to ask your acquaintances for the loan of $1.50 and have them refuse on the ground that it would melt over where you 'imag out' anyway. Then even the most thoughtful corpse would occasionally be apt to leave at home the documents to prove that it was not very dead, and this would ofton cause embatassment.

Has the coroner's jury apologized to Mr. Bucher? That is the least that it should do under the circumstances.

Frenchmen With English Wives. It is a curious fact that, notwithstand-ting the strong projudice which the French catertain toward Britain and tha British, the Fronch gentlemen have a decided preference to British ladies decided preference to British ladies when they mean to marry. An Englishman visiting Paris is surprised at the number of English ladies with French bushands whom lie meets in sectionly. If a British lady of passable appearance remains long numerical in Paris, the presentant of its that the full is her own. It is worthy of remark, on the other hand, that a Briton tesident in Paris very rarely marties a French lady.—

FOR MILD DAYS.

771—Aosta Walst—Sizes 34, 30, 38 and 40 Inches, Bust Measure.

This charming design, the "Aosta" walst and "Ripple" skirt combined, is suggestive of mild days in the luttawinter or for a spring costume. The corage is exceedingly simple but very hacoming, without reams in the back; the bottom finished with a girdle baving a bow at the back like the one in front, and the shoulder cape Is alsabed at the back. Crepon and any of the popular woolen novelties may be used for this model, with velvet or silk in combination. Our model is of watered crepon of a lovely brown shade, trimmed with brown velvet. The neck and wrists are limished with brown ostrich feather bands.

762—Ripple Skirt. Sizes, Medium

762-Ripple Skirt, Sizes, Medlum

762—Ripple Skirt. Sizes, Medium and Large.

A modish skirt, measuring more than five yards around the bottom. It has five breadths, with exceedingly wide side-gores and two back breadths, usually cut to meet on the bins. This skirt fils the waist trinly across the front and ever the hips, and the fullness of the back breadth is laid in two boxplaits. To secure the distended effect, face with erinoline or cauvas. Some skirtls have a very narrow and very flexible steel sewed all around the bottom; but, better than this, to secure a slight stiffness, is a thick cord of candle-wicking covered with satin or velvet to harmonize with the gown. This is an excellent model for any of the popular sik or wool fabrics, and can be used with any style of waiss, basque or coat.

A special illustration and full directions about the pattern will be found on the envelope in which it is enclosed.
